Mansfield, Ohio – April 23, 2007 – The Gorman-Rupp Company (AMEX:GRC) was recognized by Audit Integrity, Inc. in its Audit Integrity Top 100 List as being among the top 100 companies that “showed the highest degree of accounting transparency and fair dealing to stakeholders during 2006.” Over 8,000 U.S. public companies were reviewed.

The listing represents companies that “consistently evidenced accuracy in financial reporting and conservative corporate governance.” Selection was made through “a set of quantifiable rules that monitor persistent transparent accounting, fair and reasonable management compensation, and other measurable characteristics that define the character of the company.”

The Gorman-Rupp Company is pleased to receive this recognition.
